Zeco Look is a commercial platform that allows owners of goods and services to create an e-store or a promotional account. The client asked us to design a web application that could manage a massive inventory and increase conversions of both B2B and B2C clients. After intense research, we conceptualized and designed a site architecture that could organize a massive product inventory in a simple, structured way. The team created a seamless UI/UX around a robust content management system.

The "back end" system that they installed for my website is very easy to use. We have no hesitation recommending them. ”
